

WISCONSIN CITY WIPED OFF THE MAP BY FLOODS OF BLACK RIVER; THOUSANDS ARE HOMELESS AND IN NEED OF FOOD AND CLOTHING

BLACK RIVER FALLS ALMOST ENTIRELY RUINED BY TERRIBLE TIDAL WAVE THAT SWEEPED DOWN UPON THEM LATE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

PROPERTY LOSS HEAVY

Will Reach the Millions—Floods Reported All Along the Western Portion of the State—Aid Asked for by Suffering Citizens of City Destroyed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
La Crosse, Oct. 7.—The two thousand people of Black River Falls are today without shelter after spending the night in the hills watching the water of the Black River overrun the town.

Ask For Aid.
They have sent an appeal to the whole country for assistance. The wires are down and only by resorting to the expedient of sending a man up a telephone pole at the edge of the town that the cry for help could be sent out.

Population Fled.
The population fled yesterday without stopping to take extra clothing and spent a disastrous night in the hills. Early in the evening the weather cleared and later there was less suffering from exposure.

Swamp Aways.
Two dozen dwellings were swept away and unless a sudden change of current comes many more will disappear in the torrent which runs in the once heart of the city.

No Loss of Life.
As far as ascertained there is no loss of life. The communication with the town down river is impossible, but it is believed to certainty they were carried away by the flood, possibly entailing a heavy loss of life.

City Blotted Out.
Black River Falls, Oct. 7.—This city is practically blotted from the map of Wisconsin. Only a few of the sixty-one business blocks have escaped the flood and they are damaged.

Lowertown Gone.
What is known as Lowertown, west of the river, early today was a place of misery. Here a vast majority of the residents live.

Homes Demolished.
Many of these homes are demolished and it is not an infrequent sight to see several families partaking of a quantity of food which would not be enough for one hard working man.

Stores Ruined.
Every grocery store and meat market in the city disappeared in the deluge. Wire communication with the east side is cut off also.

The Hatfield Dam.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
The great overflow from the upper Black River that burst out the Bell Dam and even now threatens to carry the huge Hatfield dam owned by the La Crosse Waterpower company at Hatfield, eight miles below the Bell dam.

Flooded With Wreckage.
Flood waters were today filled with wreckage from the north and while communication was broken early today with farming districts and smaller towns, there is fear there has been considerable loss of life and property.

Buildings Ruined.
In this city more than thirty principal buildings are in ruins today and more than that number of private dwellings were carried away from their foundations and left warped out of shape. The swirling water undermined brick structures and let them topple over gently.

Warned in Time.
The only reason there was not an enormous loss of life was because warning came in time for the people to rush to higher ground carrying what little personal belongings they could gather together.

Buildings Submerged.
Many buildings were entirely submerged while two structures were washed on the second floor nearly to the windows. Until telephone communication is resumed little will be known of the damage to the surrounding country, both north and south in the path of the flood.

At Wausau.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Wausau, Wis., Oct. 7.—The waters of the Wisconsin river reached 8 1/2 feet above normal, which is equal to the record of 1881. The water has been receding since two o'clock this morning.

No Trains.
There were no trains on the Chicago and Milwaukee road since last night and probably there will be none today as the tracks are under water.

Seeks Aid.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
La Crosse, Oct. 7.—From the top of a telephone pole the mayor of Black River Falls this morning telephoned Mayor John Dangler of this city:

"We want food. We want clothing. We need money. People starving."

Ordered Stores.
Mayor Dangler at once ordered stores on his responsibility. A relief committee was appointed and at 12:15 a relief train bearing the mayor, a party of citizens and necessary clothing, food and money was started for the scene of the disaster.

Former State Senator J. J. McGillicray telephoned at noon that business houses are left standing in the city. The business section is practically wiped out and from 20 to 40 residents lost, among them that of former State Senator Bright. No Loss of Life.

Stories of loss of life are discredited. The water at Hatfield last night broke the dike at the east end of the dam and with the flood passing around both ends of the dam the water fell above the dam so the top is now in view.

Villages Escaped.
Messages from towns above and below Hatfield show they escaped with minor damages.

Water on Sheets.
A torrent of water 20 feet deep runs riot over the devastated business section here today. The damage is estimated at three quarters of a million dollars. Supplies are low as all but one grocery store was ruined.

Dam Will Hold.
The Hatfield dam was still intact at noon today and little fear was expressed that it would not hold the flood waters now.

Has Many Aids.
J. H. Caranahan, city marshal, has deputized 21 men to assist him and it is now believed the worst is over.

Report From Denver.
Denver, Oct. 7.—With reports indicating three persons dead, advice here says that the San Luis valley and San Juan county in Colorado are flood swept, as well portions of New Mexico.

Bridges Out.
Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 7.—Many bridges are washed out and car traffic paralyzed by heavy rains in this locality. Around Sharpsburg, Etha and West Etha a cloud burst is reported.

Milwaukee Notified.
Milwaukee, Oct. 7.—Mayor Seldel today received an appeal from the mayor of Black River Falls for relief should the flood situation become worse. Mayor Seldel promptly notified W. G. Bruce, Secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, with a view of affording immediate relief.

Canks Giving Way.
The banks of the river are slipping into the water. Most of the city is built on sand. The postoffice and banks are destroyed and it is believed the town cannot be rebuilt at the present location as the new channel of the river goes through the heart of the town.

Rush River Rushes.
Malden River, Wis., Oct. 7.—The heavy rains of the past twenty-four hours have made the Rush river a raging torrent and there is fear that immense damage will be done to surrounding country. It was still rising today.

Taft HAS FINISHED HALF OF HIS TRIP AROUND THE CIRCLE

President is Entertained at Walla Walla, Wash., Today—Guest of Ballinger Monday.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Walla Walla, Wash., Oct. 7.—President Taft today finished the first half of his thirteen thousand mile tour. The program here was the usual inspection of the town by automobile and an address.

Monday in Seattle the president will be the guest of former Secretary of the Interior Ballinger.

DES MOINES STREET CAR MEN TO STRIKE

Unless Eleventh Hour Attempt at Settlement is Successful, City Will Again Face Strike.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Des Moines, Oct. 7.—Street car men will strike not later than one o'clock tomorrow morning unless the eleventh hour effort for settlement of differences is successful.

CONGREGATIONALIST CONVENTION OPENED

Annual Session of State Association Began at Fond du Lac Today and Will Continue Until Monday.

Fond du Lac, Oct. 7.—With "The Church and the Age" as the general theme of discussion, the seventy-third annual meeting of the Wisconsin Congregational association began here today and will continue until Monday. The prominent speakers to be heard include Dr. C. W. Richards of New York, Rev. J. H. Chandler of Chicago, President Silas Evans of Idaho, Col. George, Rev. H. P. Burns of Superior, and Rev. J. S. Reave of Appleton.

SANBORN RECEIVES SHARE OF ESTATE

Judge Grosscup Allows Sanborn $10,000 Attorney Fees for Services in Estate of Wisconsin Man.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Oct. 7.—Federal Judge Grosscup today allowed Federal Judge Sanborn $10,000 from the estate of James Stimpson of Superior, Wis., for attorney fees demanded by Sanborn and former United States Senator Spooner. The Stimpson estate was thrown into bankruptcy. After the death of the Wisconsin banker, Spooner and Sanborn acted as attorneys for the estate before Sanborn's elevation to the bench.

HANGING AROUND AGAIN

REPORT ROYALISTS IN DEFEAT TODAY; REVOLT RECOGNIZED

Reports Received on Spanish Frontier Are to the Effect That Royalists Have Lost.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Vigo, Spain, Oct. 7.—Severe fighting between Portuguese Royalists and Republicans is reported from across the frontier. Captain Concellos, in command of the Royal forces, is said to have been defeated at Braganza and at Vinhosa, a Royalist column, is reported surrounded. The most sensational news, however, comes from Oporto where it is believed a decisive battle of the uprising will be fought. The Portuguese government, after repeated denial that there was any serious trouble, has at length officially recognized the revolt.

Wide Differences.
While differences in view as to the responsibility of campaign managers was shown between Heyburn of the committee and the witness. The latter held that he believed detailed items of expenses were expected only from candidates as far as he knew and not of the workers.

Heyburn's View.
Heyburn held that the "Wisconsin statutes make managers officials under the law" and therefore responsible. Much attention was paid to items for liquor, postage and advertising.

Took Charge.
Sackett held the reins to Milwaukee and sort of took charge of the Stephenson headquarters without any contract from Stephenson. He had estimated that a thoroughly organized campaign would cost from one hundred and fifty thousand dollars to two hundred thousand dollars. He was employed from July to October 16 and stated.

Closely Questioned.
Sackett was questioned hard by Senator Sutherland on how he expected Stephenson to live on itemized accounts if such accounts were not kept. Apparently he left that worry Stephenson.

No Names Used.
He had often failed to put down the names of men because they did not want their names to get into newspapers and be accused of wrongdoing.

Many Called.
Before the opening of today's session the following witnesses were summoned to be sworn: G. W. Hurt, Montello, game warden; R. L. Morse, Fond du Lac, lawyer; L. W. Thayer, Ripon, former senator; Arthur Wilcox, Milwaukee; A. E. Hubbard, Barab, game warden; Larry E. McGill, Ladysmith, lawyer; all of whom are alleged to have received Stephenson money.

FALLING OF BRICK BUILDING IS FATAL TO TWO IN CHICAGO
Chicago Structure in Course of Erection Blown Down, Burying Six Workmen—Women and Children Reported in Ruins.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Oct. 7.—A four story brick building in the course of construction on the north side, was overthrown by wind this afternoon. Six men have been taken from the ruins. Two will die. Early reports declared that two young children and a woman were killed and buried in the debris.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Oct. 7.—Fifty boilermakers and helpers who struck a week ago, returned to work at the Burnside shops of the Illinois Central today. Edward Bloom, a non-union machinist, at the shops, was beaten into insensibility by two unidentified men.

Strikers Still Firm.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Oct. 7.—Reports from the south and west today indicate that the end of the first week of the strikes on the system's federation on the Harriman and Illinois Central railroad systems, the strikers ranks are practically intact and apparently able to enforce their threats to cause the railroads great loss.

Machineist Beaten.
Edward Bloom, aged 10, a non-union machinist employed as a strike-breaker in the I. C. shops at Burnside, was almost beaten to death today by two unidentified men. He was unconscious when found. When revived, Bloom declared he had been attacked by striking machinists.

Settled in Florida.
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 7.—The strike on the Georgia & Florida railroad was settled today through a compromise by which both men and the railroad company gained many points.

ARE YET IN DOUBT AS TO PROSECUTION IN AUSTIN DISASTER

Prosecuting Attorney States That Paper Company Will Not be Held —55 Bodies Recovered.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Austin, Pa., Oct. 7.—Whether any criminal prosecution will follow the Hayless dam disaster is in doubt today. Prosecutor Nelson declares he has no intention of trying to hold the paper company liable. Deputy Attorney General Hargett asserts that if there was any negligence in the construction or maintenance of the dam, that negligence is responsible for deaths which occurred.

The session of the coroner's inquest was adjourned yesterday for a week or two in order for the state to obtain expert testimony and look up points in law. Next session will be held in Condorport.

Search of the ruins is progressing and up to date 55 bodies have been recovered.

M'NAMARAS TO BE TRIED SEPARATELY
Agreement is Reached by Attorneys in Case—Gompers Predicts Labor Unrest and Says McNamara Are Plot Victims.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 7.—John J. McNamara and his brother, James, will not be tried simultaneously. Instead, John will probably be tried first on the charge of murder in connection with the "Times" dynamiting. This was practically assured when attorneys for the accused men declared they would ask for separate trials and District Attorney Fredericks said he would acquiesce in the request. Fredericks says the state would insist upon trying John McNamara first.

Gompers' Statement.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—"I found the spirit of unrest among the workmen of the west more pronounced than I expected, and no one can tell what will happen," said Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, returning here from the Pacific coast. "The recent strikes in England and Ireland are apt to be duplicated here if employers continue to refuse to meet the workmen's representatives," he said.

"While in Los Angeles I held a conference with the McNamara brothers and I am more than ever convinced that they are the victims of a diabolical plot. If there ever was a doubt in my mind as to their innocence it was dispelled after my talk with them."

Gompers said the sentiment in Los Angeles was against the men on account of Detective Burns trying their

FIRST WEEK OF WAR SEES ITALY AHEAD

TURKEY HAS APPARENTLY LOST HEART IN THE STRUGGLE ALREADY.

TRIPOLI IS GARRISONED
Turkish Subjects Ready to Swear Allegiance to the New Rulers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Rome, Oct. 7.—Today's advices from Tripoli state the Italian governor has issued a proclamation declaring the town in a state of siege. The Italian forces were landed to maintain order. Nearly the entire body of the Tripoli police offered to enter the Italian service and the town is becoming animated. Public services are being restored.

It is learned the Italians have occupied Derna and Benghazi gulf, 500 miles east of Tripoli.

Radical Move.
Constantinople, Oct. 7.—The government has ordered closed all Italian establishments throughout the country. At Salonika where an Italian hospital was conducted by the Sisters of Charity, the authorities offered permission to have it conducted under their supervision. The Sisters, however, refused to allow any interference and closed the institution.

First Week.
London, Oct. 6.—The first week of the war between Italy and Turkey has closed with all the tricks thus far taken by the Italians. Tripoli has fallen, an Italian force holds the ports of Cyrenaica, the Italian navy dominates the Mediterranean; the Adriatic and the Red Sea, menacing the ports of European Turkey, and assuring the safe passage of the military expedition of 50,000 men that Italy is about to land in Tripoli to complete her conquest.

Is Inert.
Turkey remains inert and apparently hopeless. The most disquieting news at present comes from Athens, where the Greek army has been mobilized. Turkey, helpless in Africa, is said to be willing to recoup herself by seizing Thessaly.

Much Unrest.
Profound unrest is apparent all over the Balkans and a spark may explode that powder at any moment with tremendous consequences.

New Ministry.
A new ministry has been formed at Constantinople, but its stability is seriously doubted. At present there is a lull in the storm but it is impossible to forecast what the future holds.

Quick Returns.
Rome, Oct. 7.—A report reached here today that the Turkish ports at St. Goan de Modun has sunk an Italian sailing vessel and in turn had been practically destroyed by the guns of two Italian cruisers.

Real Epochs of Life.
Real action is in silent moments. The epochs of our life are not in the visible facts of our choice of a calling, our marriage, our acquisition of an office, and the like, but in a silent thought, by the wayside as we walk, in a thought which reviews our entire manner of life and says: "Thus has thou done, but it were better thus."—Emerson.

LINK AND PIN. OLD EMPLOYE OF MILWAUKEE ROAD

August Abendroth, Foreman of Repair Department, an Interesting Character.

August Abendroth, of this city, whose picture is shown below, is one of the several "old boys" who have been in the employ of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road for many years.

Mr. Abendroth was born in 1849, and at the age of twenty years went to work for the railroad company as a common laborer on one of the gravel train crews which were working near his home, in and around Monroe. The first important piece of work for the company that he ever helped at, was the filling in of the immense valley just east of Monroe, where the disastrous wreck occurred a short time ago. The work of making this fill required the services of a large crew of workmen and was started in the year 1869, and was not completed until two years later.

In 1881 he entered the car repair department in this city and worked here continuously since then. In 1884, Master Mechanic J. C. Fox appointed him foreman of the department and since that time he has held that position and always has given the greatest of satisfaction.

Mr. Abendroth lives at 225 N. Terrace street and is married and has three daughters. His only son was killed while acting as fireman on the engine in which Engineer Frank Slater was killed several years ago.

In his many years as a railroad employee, he has never had a serious accident befall him, and of all the wrecks that have occurred on the C. & St. Paul road the past twenty years, he has not missed being on hand to help in the work of clearing up the wreckage.

YARDMASTERS ARE BEING REMOVED

Milwaukee Road is Removing Yardmasters on all Divisions to Cut Expenses.

The word was received here yesterday that hereafter, on all divisions of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, the station agents will be expected to act as yardmasters at all yards except Milwaukee and Chicago. The yardmasters here, at Madison and at other points were notified of this yesterday and Yardmaster Kelly of this city has been notified that if he desires, he will be transferred to the Milwaukee yards at Milwaukee and is given two days to decide. This order will affect a great many men on the many different divisions and the only logical reason for this act is that the company is desirous of cutting down expenses. Another act which shows that this is the reason is that the company has taken off a number of the section men all over the line and has only left sixteen section men to care for the entire Mineral Point Division tracks.

PACKAGE CAR WILL BE PUT IN SERVICE

Arrangements Made With C. M. & St. Paul Will Make Better Service here.

Arrangements have been made with the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad by Secretary Lane of the Industrial and Commercial club, to put on a package car for various points on the R. and St. W. Division. This car will also be used to handle freight for points on the Illinois Central, which have always been routed by way of Gratiot and Warren which necessitated making two transfers. This new route as planned will only require one transfer which will be at Freeport and will insure a more rapid and better movement of shipments out of this city for points on the I. C. west of Freeport.

Janesville shippers will hail this new method with enthusiasm and with the excellent service promised we are sure that it will become a permanent thing.

Clear Up Track.
The large steam wrecker, which is kept in Milwaukee, passed through here today with its entire crew for Brookhead where it was called into service by the freight wreck which occurred three miles this side of that place. Twelve cars are reported as having left the track.

MRS. ARAM J. POTLIER

DOES NOT CARE FOR PUBLIC LIFE.

Providence, R. I.—There is one woman in Rhode Island who is not pleased in the fact that Governor Aram J. Potlier of Woonsocket has decided, after months of consideration, to run for a fourth term this fall, and that woman is his wife, Mrs. Potlier. Last year she tried to get the governor to retire from public life so she could see something of him, as she expressed it, and this year she thought she had succeeded. Governor Potlier publicly announced his intention to retire but political friends almost literally compelled him to be the candidate again this fall on the republican ticket. Mrs. Potlier was born in Paris, and became acquainted with Mr. Potlier when he represented Rhode Island at the Paris exposition.

Facts Regarding the Stanley Country, Taylor County, Wisconsin.

Thousands of acres of the best lands in the world are here offered within one, two, three, four or five miles of three railroads, lands which are bound to triple in value within a few years. The prospect is one such as might induce a man to undergo hardships and deny his family the comforts of life for a few years in order to reap the rewards of speculation. But the owners of these lands are not seeking the speculative buyer. They have a proposition here which will appeal to the overflow from the older farming communities, the younger man seeking a home within his means, which offers the same advantages, the same opportunities, as those in which he has been reared, together with large financial returns.

Aside from the railroad facilities, the R. F. D. Routes have already been established, and are awaiting the arrival of the settler. Many settlers have already blazed the way and are enjoying the fruits of their enterprise and their industry and there will be no dearth of companionship and kindred spirits, which go to make life endurable, in every community, in any vocation.

The average price of partially improved farms in this locality exceeds sixty dollars per acre. Many farms are held and have been sold at much higher prices than this. Our price for raw land ranges from $12.50 to $20.00 per acre, and we give liberal terms of payment. You cannot afford to overlook this glowing opportunity of securing one of these farms at so low a price.

GRIDIRON BOUTS ON TODAY'S SCHEDULES

FOOTBALL PLAYS IMPORTANT PART IN TODAY'S ATHLETIC CALENDAR.

SEASON REALLY OPENS

In East and West Games Are Held—It is However Merely Preliminary Practice For Big Games.

Football battles of varying importance will claim the attention of college rooters today throughout the country. The first heavy gridiron game is scheduled on the gridirons of the East and West, with the Chicago-Indiana meeting at Marshall field capturing the attention of honor in the eastern district.

The maroon-hoover contest will be the only event featuring the western championship, the other "big eight" institutions loosening up with preliminary brushbacks. Iowa is the only conference college with an open date. The eastern centers will be as busy as the Mississippi Valley region. Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Pennsylvania and other prominent universities will take on their lesser neighbors.

BASEBALL NOTES.
Cy Young won two of the three games the Boston Rustlers won from Pittsburgh, this season.
Boston sports are laying 10 to 8 that the Athletics will capture the series for the world's championship.
It is said that Orville Overall who has been pitching for the Stockton, Calif., team this summer, will return to the Cubs next season.
"Big Ed" Walsh of the White Sox, picks the Athletics to win the big series. He says that Jack Barry at short is the answer.
Arthur Irvin will be elected vice-president of the New York Highlanders and Hal Chase will manage the team again next season.
Too bad Bill Dahlen didn't get his Brooklyn team working right earlier in the season. The Superbas played great ball during the last western trip. Proulx, Savorid, Covalesko, Marziano, Almeida and Belmont are a bunch of names that have Cincinnati fans "up in the air" trying to pronounce them.

Cliff Blankenship has been signed up to manage the Holston team in the Union Association. He managed the Salt Lake City team during the past season.
Pitcher "Stoney" McElroy of the Milwaukee team, is still the "Stone Man" of old. Twice within two weeks "Stoney" pitched a double-header and won all four games.
"Honus" Wagner, Bobby Byrne, and "Lefty" Leifield are making arrangements for an auto trip through Europe. Bobby will be "in Dutch" in Germany, but when the trio hit Ireland he will surely show his German pals.

LAST BALL GAME OF SEASON TOMORROW

Janesville Pirates and Beloit All Stars Will Clash—Other Local Gossip.

Next Sunday, Oct. 8, will occur the last baseball game of the season when the Beloit All Stars will play the Janesville Pirates in this city. Both teams have made a good record all season and it is expected that they will work doubly hard tomorrow to land the last game of the season. The lineup for tomorrow is as follows:
Pirates: Johnson or Huggs, p; Hall or Williams, c; G. Moore, ss; Ernest Muenchow, 1b; J. King, 2b; W. Fleming, 3b; P. Mantel, rf; J. Cantwell, cf; O. Otto, lf.
All Stars: P. Johnson or Sutton, p; C. Clark or Rosenthal, c; B. Lockwood, ss; Thaler, 1b; G. Brown, 2b; Schrader, 3b; F. Berry, rf; Blanchard, cf; Schmittler, lf.

Other Sporting Gossip.
Next Monday night the first match game will be bowled at the alleys of Loringwell & Hockett in this city, and the teams competing on that date are known as the Browns and the Maroons. The series this year promises to be of great interest and undoubtedly some new record will be set. The members of the Maroons are, Hockett, Osborn, G. Kueck, McCue and John Baumann, and of the Browns, Parlar, G. Baumann, Wolcott, Myhr and Fox. The alleys are in fine shape so look for a good game Monday night. Games will be played from that night on between the various teams. Tuesday night the Greys and Blues will clash.

Billiards.
The billiard enthusiasts have not gotten together as yet to arrange for a tournament, but it is thought that later on in the winter games will be played. There are a good many local billiard players who made records last

THIRD WARD ELEVEN TAKES GAME TODAY

Aggregation From Jefferson School Defeated Fourth Ward Midgets by Count of 10 to 0.

Amateur football played by the boys of the city graded schools resulted in a victory for the third ward Pirates over the Fourth Ward Midgets by the count of 10 to 0 in the Court House park this morning. The game was the first of a series to be played between the two teams, the second to be played next Saturday on Fourth ward territory.
Taylor and Craig for the Third ward were the most consistent ground-gainers and were largely responsible for the three touchdowns. Amerphol for the Fourth ward did some stellar work, but was at the same time chided as a Third ward map. The teams lined up as follows:
Third Ward: McCarthy, c; Williams, qb; J. Heath, lg; Pierson, rg; Flannery, rf; C. Williams, lf; L. Ellis, re; J. Laffer, lo; Brown, fb; W. Craig, lib; Taylor, rlb.
Fourth Ward: Navock, c; Casey, qb; Koobla, rg; Drew, lg; Welsh, rf; Hogan, lf; Sullivan, re; Skelly, le; Amerphol, fb; Lucaskey, rlb; P. Richards, lib.

FOOTBALL NOTES.
There will be approximately 45,000 seats in the Harvard Stadium for the Yale game, November 25.
M. H. Herr, the former Syracuse football star and hammer thrower is coaching the Purdue University squad.
There are six candidates for quarterback on the Chicago varsity eleven and the best man only weighs 130 pounds.
The University of Pittsburgh eleven have hopes of a game with Pennsylvania if the latter cancels the date with Michigan.
Suples, Hicks, and Weir are the only men on the 1910 team at West Point who will be missed from the Army lineup this season.
WITH THE BOXERS.
Young Corbett has been given a license to referee bouts by the boxing commission in New York.
The promoters of the Johnson-Wells bout are sore and threaten to put the rollers under the game in London.
The bout between Bob Mohr and "Cyclone" Thompson scheduled for New Orleans, Oct. 8, has been declared off.
Jack Curley, the Chicago wrestling promoter, has signed up with Jim Flynn and will manage the "hope killer" in the future.

TO FIGHT MCFARLAND.

Matt Wells, the crack 135-pounder who is to meet Packey McFarland in a ten round "go" at Madison Square Garden on the night of October 19th. The weight is to be 135 pounds at five o'clock in the afternoon. This picture was taken since the recent fight between Wells and Attoll, when the Englishman clearly demonstrated his superiority over the clever boxer. It is no wonder considering the difference in weight of the two men that Wells had so much the advantage over Attoll. This was in no way to be construed as a criterion of his ability to handle men of his own weight. He will find in Packey McFarland a worthy opponent whom many believe can down the Britisher in the first round. The winner of this fight will be the logical challenger of Wolcott for the championship.

U. S. Department of Agriculture. WEATHER BUREAU WILLIS L. MOORE, Chief

WEATHER CONDITIONS.
The storm that was in this vicinity has moved rapidly westward up the Ohio valley, and is now on the middle Atlantic coast. It was attended by general rains in the lake region, middle Mississippi valley, Ohio valley, and north Atlantic coast during the half of the country today, and is expected to pass 24 hours. The rainfall was not accompanied by clear cool weather. In heavy rain, this district will be fair and cooler when it passes over the Mississippi valley, with temperature around 40 degrees in the early morning, when a light frost is to be expected. Sunday will be fair with rising temperature.

LEAKING GAS CAUSE OF PROLONGED SLEEP

Thomas Welsh, Proprietor of Silver Moon Saloon, Made Ill by Fumes From Partly Closed Jet in Room at Park Hotel.

Gas escaping from a partially closed gas jet in his room at the Park hotel, caused Thomas Welsh, proprietor of the Silver Moon saloon, to oversleep several hours yesterday morning, and also occasioned considerable alarm among the hotel occupants when the cause of his not arising was discovered.

About noon, yesterday, the bartender of Mr. Welsh's saloon called for him at the hotel. The day clerk, F. E. Person, said that he had not been down from his room since he retired the previous evening but would call him at once. He went upstairs and rapped at the door of the room which he occupied. Detecting the odor of gas he called the proprietor, B. W. Brower, and they entered the room. Mr. Welsh was found lying unconscious in bed with his eyes half open. There was a strong smell of gas and the jet was not firmly closed, but the room was not filled with it, there being outlets through the transoms and a partly opened window. Mr. Welsh was taken to the window to give him fresh air and Dr. Woods summoned. He found the patient breathing weak, and finally his head action weak, and gave him a hypodermic injection. Mr. Welsh regained consciousness in ten or fifteen minutes but remained in a somewhat dazed condition for a longer time. Except for a slight headache he is none the worse for his experience. He was not at any time in danger of his life and it is probable that the gas had been escaping for but a short time before he was found. The gas pressure comes up in the morning and would force through a partly closed jet which the lower pressure during the night could not penetrate. A chambermaid had tried the door of Mr. Welsh's room about two hours before the clerk entered and did not notice any odor of gas.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Attention C. A. R.: There will be a special meeting of W. H. Sargent Post No. 29 at the hall Sunday morning, Oct. 8, at 8:30, to attend the funeral of our late comrade, C. E. Tanberg, by order of C. E. Evans, commander, and L. N. Nelson, adjutant.

Injured by Fall: Miss Emma West, residing at 1426 Mohr avenue, fainted away this morning on Milwaukee street near the United Cigar store. She fell on the brick walk and received a severe gash in the back of the head. She was given medical aid immediately and will be laid up several days on account of the accident. Several stitches were necessary to close the wound.

Horse and Car in Mixup: A spirited horse driven by two ladies, pushed in between the fender of an Interbus car and the rear wheel of a motor car at the corner of Milwaukee and Main streets this afternoon. It fell down and made efforts to run away but Patrobian John Brown was able to get hold of its bridle in time. The horse was not injured to an appreciable extent, but the mud guard on the auto was bent a little. The ladies showed good control and cool heads in managing the horse.

ASKED TO LOOK FOR STOLEN AUTOMOBILE

Local Police Warned to Keep Watch For Cadillac Machine Stolen in Chicago Thursday Night.

Chief of Police Appleby has received a letter from Nicholas Hunt, commanding inspector of the detective bureau of the Chicago police department, asking for information in regard to a Cadillac automobile stolen in that city between 8:30 and 9 o'clock Thursday evening. The machine was a 1911 model, engine No. 51579, license number 3164. It had a black body, yellow wheels 36 inches in diameter a mahogany wood frame, and zig-zag windshield. The front fender on the left hand side had the rim torn off for about a foot. The machine had two horns, one electric on the left hand side and a bulb horn on the right side. The car carries four passengers, was of the baby tonneau type and had a top. Two extra tires were carried, one in an all cloth case. Police are asked to hold the car and its occupants wherever found.

TO ORDER CHANGE IN COURT HOUSE?

Board of Supervisors in Annual Session in November May Order Interior Remodeled.

At the regular annual November meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Rock County, the matter of remodeling the interior of the court house will undoubtedly be considered, and a change may be ordered. At the last meeting Supt. O. D. Antisdel requested the board that his quarters be changed or removed to some other more convenient and commodious part of the building. This matter was taken under consideration and referred to committee No. 4, which failed to make a report.

At that time it was proposed to change the interior of the county clerk's office to accommodate the county treasurer, and to move the superintendent's office into the room vacated by the county treasurer. Several of the members of the board, however, expressed themselves as not favoring the change, unless other parts of the building receive attention at the same time. It is expected that the committee will report on the matter at the November session and recommend action one way or another in the matter. County officials in the main favor the proposed changes which would undoubtedly make for greater convenience.

Carol was born in the town of Johnston and came to Janesville with his parents when an infant. Personal arrangements have not yet been completed but it is expected to hold the funeral Monday and to inter the remains in the cemetery in Johnston. He leaves to mourn his loss three brothers, Harold, Carl and LeRoy, and one sister, Ruth.

REGARDING OPENING OF HUNTING SEASON

Date Was Not Printed on Back of License This Year For Reason That Legislature Was Slow in Passing Laws.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 7.—Numerous inquiries have been directed to State Game Warden John A. Sholtz by hunters in Wisconsin asking why he had not specified the open season for hunting protected game, on the back of the hunter's license, as done in other years. This year, in place of such memorandum, appears the advice, "See Game Laws." The warden says, "Mr. Sholtz, was due solely to the late news of the legislature's adjournment. Before the law makers had passed the law over the game laws the public printer advised Mr. Sholtz that the licenses must be printed at once if they were to be issued before the hunting season opened. At that time the state game department was still waiting for the legislature to finish its revision of the laws. Mr. Sholtz was thus precluded from publishing the revised dates for the various open seasons on the license blanks. The game laws were compiled, necessarily, after the licenses had been printed, and the department has only this week finished sending them to county clerks.

NAVY MOBILIZATION BECAUSE OF UNREST THROUGHOUT WORLD

Great Navy Maneuvers Planned by Navy Department in Atlantic, Are Due to Conditions of European Affairs, Is Reported.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—It is the general belief here that the great naval maneuvers planned by the Navy Department on the Atlantic and Pacific during the coming winter are the result of the widespread unrest apparent throughout the world and especially the strained situation in Europe.

Students of international affairs fear that the world is passing into one of the periodic stages when all races and nations become restless—such a period as some historians believe are always preceded by tremendous upheaval. Throughout the world the nations now are, as by one common agreement looking to warfare of their defense powers, according to reports.

The uncertainty of the situation in Europe with the vague possibility of developments that might involve any nation to some unexpected event is fully realized by the government at Washington.

Secretary Meyer denies that there is any significance to the maneuvers further than to give the men the training involved in such a movement.

The fact is, however, that the usual long winter cruises which are severe in wear and tear on ships have been abandoned and the big sea fighters will be kept close to home ports, near the navy yards and in perfect repair.

American naval authorities believe that the Atlantic battleship fleet is the most effective fighting machine afloat. They believe that a great mobilization of these ships in New York harbor will have a good effect all around—both at home and abroad.

While all Europe is torn with war and rumors with war, Uncle Sam has decided to make a quiet display of the fact that he has not been idle "in time of peace."

Whether there is any more definite reason for the mobilization at New York and Los Angeles of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets could not be learned, but the impression was strong that the plan was adopted merely for its moral effect on the international situation.

Secretary Meyer at first announced that the mobilization would be accomplished by a sudden order at a time previously not announced, so that ships would race to the point of concentration in war fashion. Later he decided that such action might be misconstrued and he is yet uncertain as to the exact plan of mobilization.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH AUTO RACES

Annual Automobile Events at Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, Were Postponed To-day.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 7.—Fearing that last night's rain would make the course dangerous, officials of the Quaker City automobile club today postponed the fourth annual Fairmount Park Automobile races.

MISSING BALLOON MAY WIN THE RACE

Berlin 11, Which is Still in Race Is Craft, Luckey.

Kansas City, Oct. 7.—With but one balloon, Berlin 11, still in the air, the race for the Bennett trophy is between the United States and Germany. The American balloon, Luckey, made 365 miles which Berlin 11, must beat. Where the Berlin has drifted is problematical.

SUGAR FACTORY AT MADISON IS OPENED

Cegan Operations This Morning With a Force of Two Hundred Men—Contracted 6,000 Acres This Year.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 7.—The plant of the United States Sugar company of this city started operations for the season today, and will employ about 200 men. The running season will last about four months. The acreage and tonnage is larger than ever this year. The company contracted this year for 6,000 acres of beets. The capacity of the plant has been increased during the past year.

Harvest of Beets Delayed by Rains

Season of Digging Sugar Beets Was Never So Late Before—Acreage Is Large.

Edgemoor, Oct. 7.—The sugar beet harvest in this vicinity is sadly delayed this season on account of the recent heavy rains and the outlook is anything but encouraging at present as the rainy weather is still on. The beet harvest never was so late as this season and it is reported there will be an unusual number of hollow top beets in the early fields because of the new growth starting up after the growth was broken. The Rock County Sugar Beet company, represented here by Harry Bucknall, has the largest acreage in this section.

James F. Donnelly.

Last evening word was received by Mrs. T. D. Donnelly of the death of James F. Donnelly, a former resident of Janesville, late of Chicago.

Mr. Donnelly was born and lived for a number of years in this city and when a young man, moved to Chicago where he has since resided. He will be remembered by many Janesville people, who will be surprised and grieved to hear of his untimely death. He was possessed of a kindly and genial disposition and was beloved by all who knew him. For the past fifteen years he has been highly successful in his chosen work.

Besides a sorrowing wife and four children, he leaves to mourn, two brothers and four sisters: T. D. Donnelly of this city, now in Omaha; J. G. Donnelly of Fortville, Mrs. C. Hobson and Mrs. J. E. Wilson of Chicago; Mrs. M. Bradley of Harlem, N. York, and Mrs. J. Mulloy of Iron River.

Funeral services will be held Sunday from the late home in Chicago.

THE LOCAL ELEVEN PLAYS WHITEWATER

High School Athletes Meet the Team From Normal School Town on Their Own Grounds.

Despite the gloomy atmosphere which pervaded the High school yesterday concerning the football game this afternoon the air was clear this morning. Whitewater High school is in for a good beating too, to judge from the reports about the team. Having won their first game from Stoughton, the local eleven left for Whitewater this morning with high hopes and the determination to repeat the operation.

Getting the ball away from Whitewater will probably be a harder task than that experienced last Saturday and the Janesville boys will deserve especial congratulations if they are successful today.

Fourteen men reported at the tenth thirty train, although at first it was feared that the game would have to be postponed on account of a lack of players. The Janesville line-up was: Edler, lib; Ryan, rb; Connell, rb; Kelly, qb; Smiley, re; Wilkinson, rt; Waterman, rg; Cannon, c; Dalton, lg; Sherman, lt; Lee, le; Connors, Mason and Noyes, subs.

About twenty rooters accompanied the team by train and auto and if Janesville does not win it will not be the fault of the supporting aggregation.

EMBRYO BATTLESHIP.

Laying the keel of largest United States battleship, and Admiral Sampson's grandson who had the honor of screwing down the first plate in the keel.

New York City.—The laying of the keel of what is to be the largest battleship of the United States, "The New York," at the Brooklyn navy yard, attracted much attention in naval circles. The grandson of Admiral Sampson, a mere lad, had the honor of screwing down the first plate in the keel.

Little Bed-Time Tales By EDITH HAVENS

Mollie and Rex

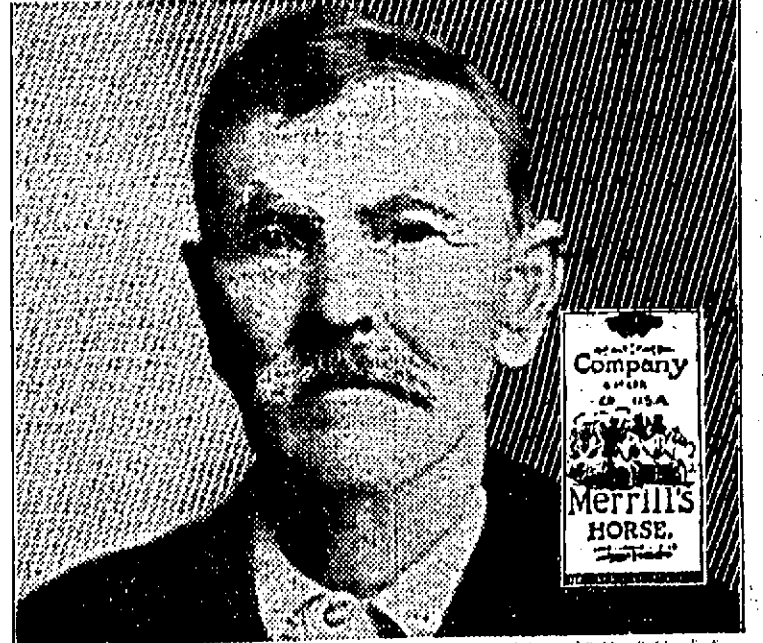

I DO wish it was supper time," said Rex, the dog, as he stretched and yawned in front of the fireplace.
Mollie, the little Maltese cat, looked down at him from the easy chair in a sad kind of way.
"You're always hungry, aren't you, Rex?" she said. "I am satisfied to wait until supper is ready."
"But why are you satisfied to always wait?" asked Rex, half crossly.
Mollie curled up just a bit tighter.
"Why, you see," she answered, "if we had supper this early it would very soon be over, and then we couldn't have the pleasure of looking forward to it."
"Looking forward to it?" growled Rex. "Looking forward to it doesn't stop you from being hungry."
Mollie smiled, and she arose, and stretched her legs.
"It doesn't with you, because you won't let it," she continued. "Do you know, Rex, I have lots of fun expecting things. Sometimes I am sorry when the thing comes because then the expecting is over."
"That is nonsense," said Rex, and thus before Rex she placed a heaping plate of fine bones—enough for two such as they talked until supper time.

The good housewife brought Mollie dogs. Rex was well along in his meal and even before Mollie had jumped down from the chair.
"You have much more there than you need," ventured Mollie. "Why don't you save a bone or two for that poor dog we saw out of the window this afternoon?"
Rex growled.
"Don't interrupt me," he said. And he continued eating until there wasn't a thing left on the plate. Mollie had long since gone back to the chair, leaving almost half of her milk. As Rex stretched himself in front of the fire again, he said:
"I wish there had been more."
"I had plenty," said Mollie, "and I enjoyed it."
Then something terrible happened, for Mollie saw Rex suddenly double up with pain.
"Oh, how my stomach hurts," he cried. "Oh! oh!"
Rex was a very sick dog that night, and when morning came and he felt better, he agreed that Mollie had been right. He never complained or ate more than he should after that.

CATARRH ATTACKED HEAD BOWELS AND KIDNEYS Famous Veteran now Healthy and Strong, Thanks to Pe-ru-na.

MR. LEWIS JENKINS.
Veteran of civil war and member famous Merrill's Cavalry.
Mr. Lewis Jenkins, U. S. D. 4, Chillicothe, Livingston Co., Missouri, veteran of the civil war and member of Merrill's Cavalry, writes: "Peruna has built up my health so I can do as much work in a day as a young man of twenty years, and I can recommend it everywhere."
"I was so bad with catarrh of the head and kidneys that I could not sleep at all. I went to a drug store, I saw a few bottles of it, and I asked the druggist if that was what it was put up for and he said it was. So I bought a bottle and took it and it commenced to relieve me so much that I kept on taking it, and it cleared everything like catarrh out of the system and has cleared me of chronic diarrhea, from camp life of the army of the civil war."
"I took cold a week ago. I got a bottle of it and am taking it and my cold has about left me."
"I am a man of about sixty-five, and can do work of any kind. My strength is powerful, and the people ask me what I did that made me so stout. I tell them I took Peruna and cleared the catarrh out."
"I told the drug man I was not going to do without it if I had to send to the Peruna Company. I think there is no better medicine for the old veteran of the civil war or for a person of my age than Peruna. It does the work."
Bowels and Stomach.
Mr. S. A. Doolittle, 193 East First St., Corning, N. Y., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Peruna, as a tonic and catarrh cure in whatever form or wherever located. I had a great deal of trouble with my bowels and Peruna cured them."
"My son was very low with catarrh of the stomach, and after doctoring for seven weeks was worse than when he began. The doctor did not seem to understand his case. He commenced using Peruna which helped him right along, and he was soon at work again."
Could Hardly Breathe.
Mr. George McDougall, U. S. D. 1, Box 27, Mineral City, Ohio, writes: "After taking about six bottles of Peruna, I have been cured of catarrh. Before I started using it, I could hardly sleep, and always had a pain in the back, and could hardly breathe. But now I feel like a new person, I am in such good health."

AUTO RACING DOES DECIDE SUPREMACY

RIDING ON SKYROCKETS NOT ES-SENTIAL TO MAN'S HAP-PINESS.

ENDURANCE IS TEST

This Really Tells the Stability of the Car to Be Used by Average Man.

Automobiles are being built for the average American and the average American has a wholesome respect for the law. He is buying a car because the use of it will make him a more efficient man, increasing his business liabilities, providing him the exhilarating rest that only the automobile brings him, conserving his best energies for the work at hand when he reaches the office or home to an important appointment.

Women are the other buyers of cars and there is only one Mrs. Cuneo. The average man and the average woman are not speed-mad; the qualities they are asking in an automobile are reliability under all conditions, durability of construction, accessibility of parts, ease and certainty of control, and the average man and woman is looking for the popular price car now that they have been taught that sturdy, serviceable, enduring cars can be built honestly and well at prices within the limits of the average man's thrift-saved bank account.

Riding a skyrocket on wheels makes no particular appeal to the average American. He has seen too many of those Norfolk holidays, drivers and spectators killed to make a day of "exhilarating" sport. He knows that he will never drive that fast; he doesn't care to do so. The wool hasn't been pulled over his eyes in the auto racing game any more than in the wrestling game; he knows where the dishonesty is. In nearly every instance that comes to his notice the car in the race is a specially-made car, built to standard, of course, but in every essential special in construction.

No ordinary auto ever drove a racing car in a big race and named out a winner at the finish; the drivers are experts trained as carefully for their stunts as acrobats train for some particularly difficult and thrilling gymnastic feat. And the average man has no hankering to be the acrobat; he is quite sure that he would land in a hospital after a lap or two at high speed in a racing car. To build racing cars for the average man is to whistle jigs to a milestone.

The long arm of the law—in blue sleeve and brass buttons—has caught too many of his fellows by the neck to induce the commoner to drive his car into the court room; the whole-some respect for the law asserts itself everywhere and the wholesome respect for one's personal safety holds that same man within reasonably safe speed limits. Auto racing proves no more than horse racing. Thousands enjoy both; they have delighted in horse racing longer than the auto, but only a few men breed race horses and they do not sell those steeds; the best selling and most reliable autos built are never seen in the big races. The man who buys an auto knows that he isn't buying the same kind of car that won the 24 hour on the 300 mile race; that was a specially-built car with an engine of greater power and different construction than he has need or desire.

It is because he knows that fact that he has been thinking of the business of making and selling autos as a "game." The industry is too important to the country—to the world—too closely in touch with the business life and efficiency of men and women longer to be called a game.

It has reached a state where, with the constant manufacturer forced from the field, it must wear the dignity that befits its place in the productive, the creative, life of the country. This dignity should no longer permit extravagance of claims in advertising or selling, misleading representations, unblatant knocking of all other cars but this one—those misleading and dishonest claims that the car which broke a world's speed record is the same car, except for the body, that is sold on the salesroom floor.

If racing were of any serious value to the auto owner, he would insist on a high-speed, high-speed car when he visits the salesroom to make his purchase. No man wants to drive at 60, 70, 80 miles per hour; the womanfolk use the car to drive. The proof of racing value should appear in the salesroom, but no salesman will tell you that his prospects ask for racing cars. He will tell you that they are very careful to ask if the car can be run with ease and certainty of control within the city and country speed limits. "I don't want a car that runs 70 or 80 miles an hour; 15 to 30 is good enough for me," the prospect says, and the salesman doesn't get the contract until all these misanthropic doubts are dispelled.

Here is the truth of the matter; racing is primarily an advertising proposition. As soon as a manufacturer realizes that as a bit of advertising, the game is so expensive, so fruitless of sales results, so much like fishing in the air, the racing car advertisements will cease and the racing game—it is only a game—will cease to seem so integral a part of the automobile industry. The true test of a car, the proof of reliability and economy and durability is in the endurance run. No special autocross tracks, no cement straightaways, but the ever-changing road conditions prove the worth of the car, the wearing qualities of its parts, the strength and sound engineering of its construction. Autos are made for roads—the roads of the open country—not autocross tracks. Automobile designers have learned more from endurance contests and reliability runs than from all the alleged stock car races ever run. "The owner asks, 'What will the car do for me?'" The answer for the Missouriian must come from the endurance runs.

Sure Thing.

Joy riding is no longer risky; it's a dead certainty.—Baltimore Evening Sun.

SEVENTY-EIGHT CARS WILL TAKE PART IN THE GLIDDEN TOUR

Famous Annual Reliability Tour Will Take Contestants Through Historic Territory.

New York, Oct. 7.—Seventy-eight cars of many makes and patterns, assembled from almost every State along the Atlantic seaboard and as far west as Indiana, will point their noses south next Saturday and stream out for Jacksonville, 1,464 miles away, in the Glidden tour of 1911. October 23, twelve days later, is the day set for the finish. During the trip the motorists will take the dust of nine States, top the Blue Ridge and follow close to the trail of the storm centre during the days of the Civil War.

The National Highway, whose path they will keep to the land of flowers winds through New Jersey, cuts an arc in southeastern Pennsylvania to Gettysburg and runs in a broad line through Maryland to the Shenandoah valley of Virginia. Through the broad, rich valley it leads past sandstone and marble monuments telling of the days of Stonewall Jackson and Sheridan. In the rolling country, the trail skirts the broad acres of a score of battles, to the broad acres of North Carolina tobacco plantations, South Carolina and the cotton fields of Georgia. The tour will cross the Empire State of the South from north to south, plunging through Atlanta on their way. Forty miles, or thereabouts, across the Florida line, the journey will end at Jacksonville. Probably no long stretch of road in America, say the officials, can offer greater diversity of scenery and climate and better roadway in its entirety.

P. J. Walker of San Francisco, President of the California State Automobile association, who has been selected referee; S. M. Butler, chairman of the Contest Board of the American Automobile association, and other officials in charge of the tour will give entrants their final word of instruction on the night before the start. Mr. Walker, an ardent advocate for good roads, will be accompanied on the tour by Mrs. Walker. A. H. Whiting of this city in a 1912 Cunningham will be the pacemaker.

In addition to the massive trophy for which the contestants will strive, the Chamber of Commerce and citizens of Anderson, S. C. have donated a handsome silver punch bowl to be awarded to the individual owner whose car ends the tour with the least number of penalties. The Glidden trophy goes to the team of three cars finishing with the best team score, but any owner of an automobile has an opportunity to enter his car in the contest for the Anderson cup.

Thirty-nine inches long and fifteen inches high, the Anderson cup—a punch bowl—is chased and engraved in patterns emblematic of the south. The foot is round and the body carries two modelled figures of Victory holding it aloft at each end. Cotton bolls and palmetto leaves wind in a silver wreath about the sides, while winged automobile wheels stand upright beneath the figures at the bottom and between them at the top. The great seal of the state of South Carolina is stamped in the metal beside an engraving of the Anderson County Court House on one side, while on the reverse is engraved: "Perpetual Automobile Touring Trophy, presented to the American Automobile Association by the citizens of Anderson, S. C., 1911" and beneath the inscription there appears the official emblem of the A. A. A.

Six or more non-contending cars will take the road with the contestants. Three of these represent three-wheel vehicles. There will be two official cars and a brass car, while the baggage and supplies of the tourists will be carried by motor trucks.

BRODHEAD.

Brookhead, Oct. 7.—Messrs. S. Roderick and C. J. Coldren and Miss Daisy Roderick, were passengers to Jacksonville on Friday.

Mrs. Emma Bartlett went to Holist Friday to visit her son Spencer and family.

Miss Mabel Stahneck of Darlington, who has been the guest of Miss Nedra Stahler, went to Holist Friday to visit with friends.

Carl Marx of Chicago, was here between trains Friday.

Kaye Humphrey of Marshall, Minnesota is the guest of his mother, Mrs. M. P. Penra.

Mrs. Wm. M. Fleet of Jacksonville, was here Friday to attend the funeral of her step-mother, Mrs. Atwood.

Old Williams is home from Patterville.

Trains are now able to cross at the point where the two cars were derailed about four miles east of this station.

A Rainfall of 450 Inches.

The rainfall of a village among the hills of Assam, during ten weeks this year, was 250 inches. The village is Cherrapunji, the rainiest spot in Asia and presumably in the world. Its annual rainfall is something over 450 inches—say, fifteen times as much as London. Cherrapunji stands on a plateau, overlooking the plain of Sylhet, and it is 4,455 feet above sea level.—Westminster Gazette.

Immense Bird's Eggs.

The largest known bird's egg is that of the extinct megapode of Madagascar, of which the museum of New York has now a specimen. It has a capacity of two gallons, measures 25 inches round the middle, and the shell is one-eighth of an inch thick. The largest egg of a living bird is that of the ostrich, which is equal to about thirty-six hens' eggs.

Loyalty to Friends.

Never permit yourself to comment unfavorably upon a friend. If you have a complaint, carry it in person to the individual concerned. Loyalty is the life breath of real friendship, and if there were more loyalty there would be fewer broken friendships.

What girl's name?

White Heron in New Jersey. Local naturalists and bird lovers are interested in a number of white herons which are making their headquarters at Avis' Pond, Woodstown, N. J., about a mile from town. The birds were first noticed about a week ago. These are the birds from which egrettes are obtained. Extinction of the species is feared because the egrettes can be obtained only when the bird is raising its young, and its death at the hands of the hunter also means starvation of the young heron.

A Word About The Efficient Motor In This $900 30 H. P. Touring Car

The motor of an automobile corresponds in importance to the "works" of a fine watch. A fancy case might make a very handsome ornament, but if it hides a cheap movement it makes a worthless time-piece. When YOU consider a car the first thing to do is take a good look at the engine. Look it over carefully. We'll go into minute detail with you. This will give you a better idea of the car's real value.

Any manufacturer can tell you his motor is efficient, dependable, reliable, economical—in short, give you all of the regular, pet, stock-in-trade, adjectives. These words are all found in the dictionary. But beyond that you don't hear very much. Anyone can make a general statement, but when it comes to backing it up with sound facts—that's a horse of another color. The purpose of this is to tell and prove to you (with supporting facts) how good the motor in our $900 motor car is—what it is and how it is made. And anyone who is the least bit motor-wise will recognize a really good engine.

It is utterly impossible in this space to go into this matter as thoroughly as we would like to. But these few facts tell you the why and wherefore of a motor which we know is by far the most efficient for its size ever made. You can see by the illustration what a clean cut job it is. Its action is just as fine as its looks.

The motor in our $900 five-passenger four-door touring car is the four cylinder four cycle type. Cylinders have large water-jackets and are cast singly, increasing cooling efficiency with the advantage of being able to replace a single cylinder at low cost should an accident occur. These cylinders are cast from a close grained metal from our own formula. The crank shaft and connecting rods and all other forgings are of high carbon manganese steel.

All bearings, cylinders, pistons and rings are ground to accurate and tested smoothness, insuring long life, freedom from wear, and positive compression. The cylinders are offset from the crank shaft to obviate the dead center at the time of impulse. The motor is suspended on three points from the main frame, which is braced for this purpose, thus dispensing with the complication and added weight of a sub-frame. This construction is ideal, as it allows for the twisting of the car on rough roads, and eliminates the liability of a dis-alignment. The entire motor is constructed with a view to accessibility of all parts that might possibly require attention.

The valves are made from thirty-five per cent nickel steel heads electrically welded to carbon steel stems. All the wearing surfaces of the valves are ground to a one-thousandth part of an inch. They are of the mushroom type and interchangeable. Owing to their peculiar design and large size they enable the motor to develop at least fifteen per cent more horsepower than any other motor of the same bore and stroke. The lower end of the valve stem is hardened and comes in contact with a fibre insert in the adjusting screw, which in turn fits into the square push rod. This contributes largely to the silence of the valve action, and permits adjustment for possible wear.

The cam shafts are drop forged (in our own drop-forge plant, which is the largest in the industry) oil-treated and case-hardened. They are ground and polished automatically, which means positive accuracy in the relative position of one cam to another. Owing to the large bearing areas throughout, the motor will run indefinitely without perceptible change in the valve-timing, for which possibility, however, a means of adjustment is provided.

"This is the only car" of its class with a five-bearing crank shaft. This feature gives support on each side of each connecting rod as it delivers its power stroke, which insures the greatest possible rigidity and keeps the crank shaft in perfect line on its bearing. The crank shaft is drop forged from one piece of carbon manganese steel and rotates in five bearings of unusually liberal peripheral area, resulting in quietness and extreme long life.

The crank cases are cast in two sections, of the finest grade of aluminum alloy obtainable. Such metal is used principally for lightness, and while more expensive than other kinds, it enables us to use a webbed construction of very superior strength. The casting of these cases is done in our own foundry.

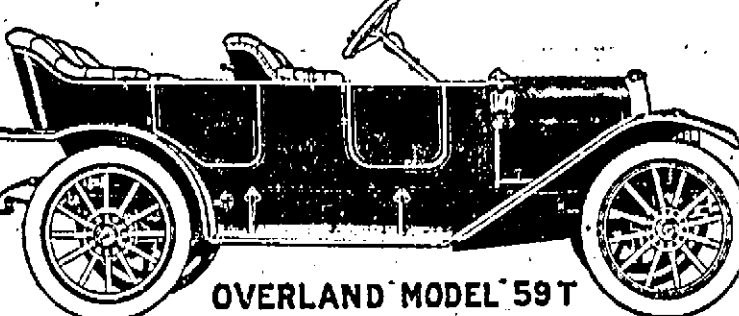

We equip this motor with a standard carburetor, chosen for its adaptability to the work required. This special advantage is that of quick vaporization and consequent easy starting; economy of fuel with the greatest percentage of power for a given amount of gasoline, and satisfactory operation at all speeds, obviating difficulties often encountered at slow motor speed. Its very accessible location, its simplicity of adjustment and the ease with which our carburetors start the motor are inherent points of superiority.

No other motor in the world is given a more severe test and thorough inspection. Just as soon as it is assembled and ready to be bolted into the frame, it is sent down to the engine testing room for what is known as a block test. The engine is belted up for two hours, and driven by other than its own power to limber it up so that it will start easily. Then it is put into the block and run from 5 to 10 hours under its own power. During this time two inspectors watch the engine performance constantly, testing it frequently by brakes, until in their judgment, based on long experience, it is ready to be inspected by the foreman in charge of this department. Then the foreman goes into an examination of the engine very thoroughly. And if there is the slightest indication of anything but the smoothest sort of work—if the engine does not turn up the power that it should—it is sent back to the chief inspector of the engine assembly department.

After being thoroughly tested, the engines are sent, together with the remainder of the parts that make up the assembled chassis, down to the chassis assembly room, where they are assembled and then turned over to the road testing department.

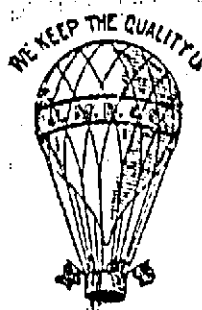

This should give you a good idea of the thoroughness of the motor in this $900 car. And every other part of this automobile is just as good as it can be made. It is a high grade car, and a careful comparison of the entire machine will absolutely prove to your own satisfaction that no other maker can sell this car at this price without losing money.

We have published a book for those who cannot come to Toledo and have a trip through our enormous plants. It takes you over the entire 80 acres. It shows how we make every part of every Overland car. It shows you the car from start to finish—from raw material to the complete article. It is a treatise of the industry's greatest factory. It explains our great equipment and shows how we can produce our cars to sell at prices from twenty to forty per cent lower than other cars. It is written in an interesting and readable style and is full of valuable information. What we did not have room to say here, of the motor in this $900 car, will be found complete in this book. Drop us a line today, and we will see that you get one of these books by return mail. It also shows our complete 1912 line with prices, specifications and full descriptions.

PRICE OF POTATOES TO REMAIN NORMAL

Available Supply is Large and Rotting is Confined to Low Spots and Heavy Soil.

That the price of potatoes will continue to remain normal throughout the winter is the opinion of Walter L. Taylor of the grocery firm of Taylor Brothers. The country is full of potatoes and a considerable portion of them could rot without materially affecting the price. The heavy rains which have fallen during the last week have started rot in the potatoes on low ground and in heavy soil but not much damage has been reported so far. A few days of sunny weather will arrest any extensive damage to the crop. Local grocers expect to obtain all the potatoes they will need from the farmers living near Janesville. Very few will be shipped in. The market price now is fifty cents, but sales are reported at forty and forty-five cents.

FIVE CENT ADVANCE IN THE HOG MARKET

Demand Remains Strong Today For Sheeps and Hogs, But Cattle Weak.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—The hog market was strong this morning and an advance of five cents was noted throughout the list of offerings. The receipts were fairly good, numbering about 9,000 and trading was active. The sheep market was also strong, with active demand, although the receipts were only 1,000. The cattle market was weak today with a small volume of receipts. Prime, corn fed heaves topped the market at $3.20. Quotations are as follows:

REAL MADAME "SANS-GENE"

Story of Adventurous Career of Marie Therese Figueur in the French Army.

Everyone knows the washerwoman who was so familiar with Napoleon in Victorien Sardou's play, "Madame Sans-Genie," but the real "Sans-Genie" who lived at that time was a dragon in one of the great Corsican's armies and spent twenty years in camps and barracks, in campaigns and battles over Europe. In the Museo de l'Armee in Paris a special case has just been installed inside which stands her equestrian statue.

Her real name was Marie Therese Figueur and she was born in Burgundy in 1774. When nineteen, at the end of the reign of terror, she enrolled in a cavalry regiment commanded by one of her uncles and soon acquired the nickname of "Sans-Genie."

Mme. Sans-Genie fought in Germany with the French and Bavarian armies, charged at Hohenlinden, took part in the siege of Toulon, was in the Italian, Spanish and Austrian campaigns and fought at Austerlitz and in Russia. During the Hundred Days the emperor conferred the Legion of Honor upon her and she charged at Waterloo for the last time.

With the Restoration she left the army to get married. She was then thirty-nine. In the course of her married career Sans-Genie had five horses shot under her and was wounded eight times in different engagements. She died in hospital in 1861.

Who Suffers From Monopoly? You!!!

Not many years ago the citizens of Janesville rallied together and became stockholders in a telephone exchange which became known as the Rock County Telephone Company. The reason for it was because the telephone rates were so high at that time as to be unbearable and the service so bad as to make change seem necessary.

When this new company became a fact there were comparatively few telephones in use as compared with the number included in the Rock County Telephone System at the present time. In fact, figures showed there were about 350 telephones all told where now we have alone more than 2240. The rate was made so reasonable that most everybody could be accommodated with the great convenience of a telephone. That same rate has been maintained and now you can have a telephone in your house for $1.00 a month.

Any unbiased mind will agree that the entrance into the field of the Rock County Telephone Company was a splendid thing for the public. They will also agree that if the Rock County Telephone Company were not in existence and the field here covered by but one telephone system, the rate would be boosted. This is the experience in all cities and towns where a merging of the telephone interests has occurred. Therefore, You Suffer From Monopoly. You are benefited by competition. The Public Must Pay the Freight and it is well to remember that the home industry and the pioneer in the equality of telephone rates should be encouraged.

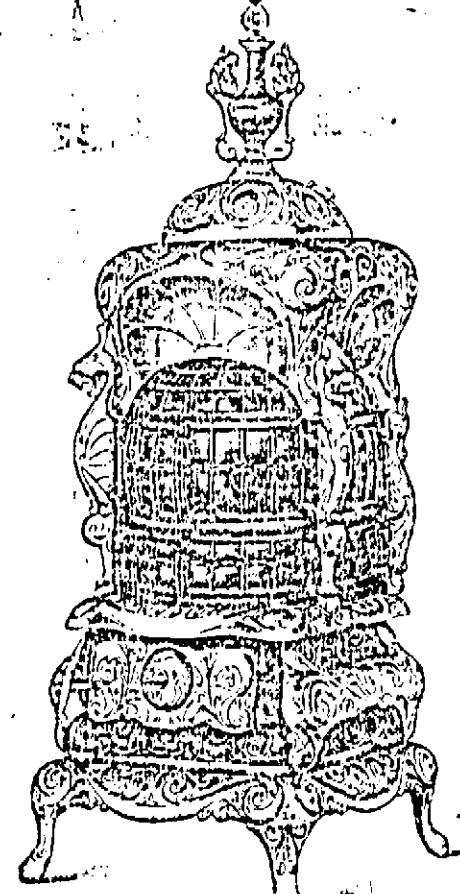

In the face of constant drumming on the part of the solicitors of our competitors, the Rock County Telephone list is growing continually. People want service, they also want extended telephone connection and they get both at a reasonable figure with the Rock County line.

There is no question as to the superiority of Rock County service. Ask today for full information.

Why Take Chances on Other Makes when Stewart Stoves and Ranges are Warranted by the Manufacturers

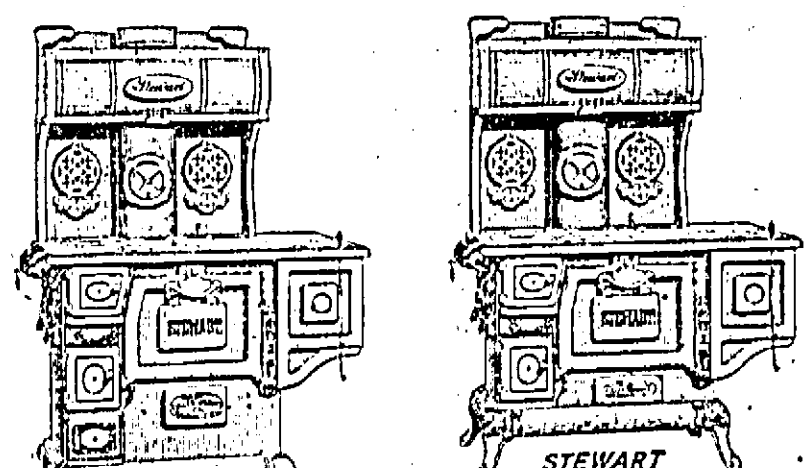

Buy it now. A splendid Stewart base burner—superior to any on the market in appearance, construction, material, economy of fuel and heating qualities.

New features—greatly increased radiating surface, giving more heat from same fuel. See the superiority of the circulating flue, largest, most efficient ever placed in a base burner—makes it strongest double heater ever produced.

Look in at the depth of fire pot and the size of the magazine. Observe the combination grates and the careful perfect fitting of the doors, drafts and joints.

Give special attention to the handsome appearance of this base burner, from the solid beautiful urn to the nickel plated base and you will know you have found what you want if you need a base burner.

Regal Stewart Steel Ranges FOR COAL OR WOOD

A handsome, thoroughly reliable and up-to-date range. Has the same features, viz: LARGE OVEN and GOOD FIREBOX which distinguish Stewart Ranges from all others. A most compact range, simple but attractive in design and guaranteed perfect in fitting and operation. It has numerous little conveniences not found on any but the highest grade.

THE BODY of range and high closet is of the best Wellsville polished steel, the only perfect material for this purpose, as it requires no blackening and is not affected by heat.

THE FLUES are lined with heavy asbestos board, which prevents loss of heat and means economy in fuel. The back flue is cast iron, proof against jamming or the chemical action of creosote.

THE OVEN is its best feature and has received particular attention. We have, after careful tests, demonstrated that our CENTER SEAM oven is the tightest, most rigid and most durable steel oven which can be made. It is made of the best cold rolled steel of extra thickness. The oven is entirely surrounded by the flues, so that all parts are heated uniformly. This makes the oven shelf as serviceable as the oven bottom for baking. This is not true of some ranges.

THE FIREBOX is next in importance to the oven and has received special attention. Linings are of cast iron, sectional and very heavy. The grate is duplex, reversible and for wood burning and of an improved construction, very simple and cannot clog and get out of order. All parts of firebox can be reached by poker through the front cleaning door, an improvement over other makes.

OTHER FEATURES. Large, smooth top surface; web pattern non-breakable covers, one sectional ring cover; oven door spring on outside, easy of adjustment; heavy steel ash pan; large clean-out opening in front for convenience; handsome steel floor base; or nickel open base; oven damper has working parts on outside, away from fire. A complete double system of check and draft dampers gives perfect control of the fire at all times.

RESERVOIR is of heavy tinned sheet copper, it holds a large quantity of water and is heated from contact with the back plate, no damper being used. Tank is covered by a nickel plated cast and steel casing, making a handsome finish.

ALL HIGH CLOSET cast parts are nickel plated and all nickel surfaces are highly polished, making a beautiful finish and one which will not become dull or tarnish.

U. S. SUPREME COURT FACES A BUSY TERM

DOCKET CROWDED WITH CASES AND LONGER THAN OF PRE-VIOUS YEAR

FIFTY RAILWAY CASES

Many Appealed From Interstate Commerce Commission on Legality
Of Oregon Initiative And Ref.

Medium Law to Be Tested
Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—After a four months' vacation the Supreme Court of the United States will convene for the term of 1911-12. The docket is crowded with 781 cases, as compared with 694 cases a year ago at this time. No case of anything like equal importance with the Standard Oil and Tobacco dissolution suits is on the docket, but there are a number of important and interesting matters that will come before the court for adjudication.

The court is expected to take up first of all the numerous cases involving the activity of State railroad commissions. There are more than fifty cases of this kind to be decided. As all of them are correlated, it is probable the court will hear them as nearly together as possible. There are thirty-six rate cases from Missouri alone, three from Minnesota including that decided by Judge Baughman, which agitated the Governor's Conference at Springfield Lake recently, and several from Oklahoma and Kentucky. The opinions of the supreme tribunal in these cases probably will fix definitely the constitutional limits of State railroad commissions and circumscribe the powers they may exercise in the way of fixing the rates of common carriers in interstate traffic.

Several important cases have come over from the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Government questions the right of railroads to make concessions to elevators, holding that it is relating. The St. Louis Terminal Company, owning two bridges over the Mississippi River, is being brought to the bar on the question of its being a monopoly in restraint of trade. Another issue that will be fought out early in the term is whether the stock yards in the large cities are common carriers within the hearing of the interstate commerce law. A case against the Baltimore and Ohio Southern western road is expected to lead to a decision as to whether a railroad may transport sheep through a State into another State when the State through which the sheep pass is under quarantine.

The battle for the initiative and referendum, the foundation stone of the Oregon primary system, will be fought before the court early in November. In view of the fact that numerous States already have followed the example of Oregon in adopting the initiative and referendum and others are preparing to do so, the decision in this case will have far-reaching consequences. The matter comes to the supreme court as an appeal in a suit brought by the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company against the State of Oregon to test the constitutionality of the initiative and referendum law.

Among the most important cases on the docket are several that were held over from last term. Included in the list are the cases involving the validity of the indictment of Charles F. Murray and others, growing out of the so-called Stracey coal-lump claims in Alaska, and of the indictment of James A. Patton and others on charges of violating the Sherman anti-trust law in "cornering" the cotton market. The review of the trial of Frederick A. Hyde and others on charges of land frauds on the Pacific coast will concentrate still another important case.

The court will also hear arguments in the Oklahoma land fraud cases, which are four in number and are typical of 301 suits brought by the government to invalidate 30,000 or more conveyances by Indians, of title to real estate, which the Government claims were fraudulent conveyances.

Labor has an important case from Louisiana in which an employer is being prosecuted for permitting a laborer to work more than eight hours in one day. Also of importance to the labor movement is the case brought to test the constitutionality of the federal employer-employee liability act of 1908.

The court in question has been asked to interpret a treaty between the United States and Italy. The case in question involves the right of an Italian consul to take charge of the estate of an Italian subject dying in this country—California—contrary to local laws.

Not the least of the problems before the supreme court is the one which threatens to curtail the administration of justice if measures are not taken by Congress for its relief. As before stated, there are now more than 700 cases on the docket, with the probability that fully 300 additional cases will be filed before the end of the term. The average number of cases that can be decided by the court in a year is about 400, and this is somewhat high. It is apparent, therefore, that the court is two years behind in its work, and will inevitably fall back still further if its labors are not lightened.

Beneath the figtree's boughs he sat,
And dreamed of some fair place, where never heartless plume could graze
the poor man's face; his vision shone before his eyes, and while his spirit glazed the skies, his wife
THE DREAMER was splitting wood.
The dreamer got some fine
haughtiness from poets and their kind, who picture him as one who lays up treasures in his mind. But when it comes to old brass tacks, I like that pilgrim best who sheds his coat and takes the axe, and gives his wife a rest. I like the man who's wide awake until he goes to bed, who hustles in the morn'g to make the price of prunes and bread. That man is hardly worth his cheese who loafs the hours away, and basks on downy beds of ease while others bawl their hay;

and if he lets the housewife sweat

NOTES FOR CITY FARMERS ONLY.

By H. L. RANN.

Some of the city papers have been having a lot of fun with the susceptible young farmer who found a note in a pair of overalls which he thought written by the girl in the factory who finished them and he proposed to the girl, being pulsed with the remark that when she married she
"would pick out
something better than a pair of old overalls."

This seemed a big joke
to the city chaps
but we have an other idea about it. Our opinion is that a young man who is satisfied to take the slack out of green overalls, with a hot noose at $3 a week, in preference to catering up to the justice of the peace with a prosperous young farmer, shows about as much brain expansion as a fanning mill. If this youthful swain knows what he has missed he would fall on his knees in the back forty and sing "Old Hundred" until his back teeth wobble. The chances are that this girl will hook up with some six-week clerk with a head full of air holes and one change of socks, and probably raise a family that would make the offspring of a camp leech like the attendance at prayer meeting in the dog days. There are worse things in this world than old overalls. The girl who is to proud to marry a man with 100 acres of land and 240 red pigs, just because he wears blue jeans and doesn't know a cotton from coteline, will never have to chase any pumpered prince or knock-kneed sprig of nobility off the front porch with her upper lip cutting like bacon on a hot skillet.

Marshalltown, Iowa, occurred in Brodhead, on Thursday, in the M. E. church, conducted by Rev. J. H. Jones.

Thos. Mahan returned Wednesday night from Byron, Ill., where he spent a few days with his mother.

Two freight cars jumped the track four miles east of this city yesterday morning. One contained horses.
They were gotten out and are not any the worse for their experience.

AGED NEW GLARUS MAN WAS SUDDENLY CALLED

Paulus Figt, Sr., Died Suddenly Yesterday Morning of Heart Failure
—New Glarus News.
[Special to this Gazette.]

New Glarus, Oct. 6.—This morning at halfpast two occurred the sudden death of Paulus Figt, Sr., death being due to heart failure. Mr. Figt was parently well in the best of health last night, when he was visited by his son, J. J. Figt.

The deceased was born at Schwanden, Canton of Glarus, Switzerland, and came to America in 1868 and has been engaged in farming ever since. The deceased leaves to mourn his loss a wife, one daughter, Mrs. J. Zimmerman; two sons, J. J. Figt and Paul S.
Figt.

Funeral services will take place at the Swiss Reformed church on Sunday afternoon.

Local Items.
Sheriff Mat Solbraun of Monroe was here on business yesterday.

M. S. Hooley of the farm implement firm of Hooley & Pynner, has sold his interest to Sam Hooley, who has taken immediate possession of the same.

Mrs. I. Hogan is visiting with relatives at Milton.

Mrs. B. A. Kundert, who has been on the sick list, is improving greatly.

Mr. and Mrs. Paulkrut Elmer have taken possession of their newly built house.

Mr. Robt. Bartlett went on a business trip to Chicago last Tuesday.

Rudolph Schmidt and Henry Dornholdt went to Delvidere, Ill., on Wednesday, where the former purchased a nice piece of corn.

Charles Flock, Sr., of Janesville, is here on a visit with friends, this being the first visit since forty years ago, and Mr. Flock noticed a great change in this city.

here on a visit with his sons, Paul and Charles, who are engaged in the milk condensing factory here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Kundert of Madison were New Glarus visitors on Wednesday.

The milk supply at the milk condensing factory has increased from 38,000 lbs. to 60,000 lbs. daily, since Oct. 1. This is due to the low price of cheese, for which reason several cheese factories have closed down.

Henry Golger of Belleville was here
on a business trip yesterday.

J. P. Marty went to Monroe this morning.

DISFIGURED WITH SCALES AND CRUSTS

Eczema from Top of Head to Waist.
Suffered Untold Agony and Pain.
Doctors Said It Could Not Be Cured.
Set of Cuticura Remedies Successful When All Else Had Failed.

"Some time ago I was taken with eczema from the top of my head to my waist. It began with scales on my body. I suffered untold itching and burning, and could not sleep. I was greatly distressed with scales and crusts. My ears looked as if they had been poked out with a razor, and my neck was perfectly raw. I suffered untold agony and pain. I tried two doctors who said I could not be cured. I read in the paper of the Cuticura Remedies, which cured me. Cuticura Remedies cured me of eczema when all else had failed, therefore I cannot praise them too highly.

"I suffered with eczema about ten months,
and am now entirely cured, and I believe Cuticura Remedies are the best skin cure
there is." (Signed) Miss Mattie J. Shaffer, R. F. D. 1, Box 8, Danville, Miss., Oct. 27, 1910.

"I had suffered from eczema about four years when buds began to break out on different parts of my body. It started with a fine red rash. My back was affected first, when it also spread over my face. The itching was almost unbearable at times. I tried different soaps and salves, but nothing seemed to help until I began to use the Cuticura Remedies. One box of them cured me entirely. I recommend them to my sister for her baby who was troubled with eczema, and they completely cured her baby." (Signed) Mrs. F. L. Marberger, Drexelville, Pa., Sept. 6, 1910.

To Celebrate Peace Mission
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 7.—Four Governors and a number of mayors, in addition to many of the most famous military organizations in the United States, will be in Atlanta the first three days of the coming week for the celebration in connection with the unveiling of the Old Guard monument at Piedmont Park. The monument is to commemorate the "mission of peace" on which the Gate City Guards of this city made a tour of the North soon after the close of the civil war.

ARE YOU FREE —FROM—

Headaches, Colds, Indigestion,
Pains, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Dizziness? If you are not, the most effective, prompt and pleasant method of getting rid of them is to take, now and then, a desertspoonful of the ever refreshing and truly beneficial laxative remedy—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. It is well known throughout the world as the best of family laxative remedies, because it acts so gently and strengthens naturally without irritating the system in any way.

To get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genu-

Chiropractic Is Health For You!

That pressure upon a nerve interferes with its conductivity and that this interference prevents the part or organ to which the nerve is a conveyor of vital energy from performing its functional duties with a healthful degree of efficiency, are facts verified almost daily in the most nervous wards and clinics of every hospital in the land. The only difference of opinion concerning this matter that can occur is the only question about which there can be any dispute—Is, does the slight vertebral displacement which Chiropractors call a subluxation, produce enough pressure upon the nerves with which it comes in contact to be the cause of disease? A better and far more satisfactory answer to this question than either argument or verbal affirmation affords, is the clinical fact, a thousand times verified, that as soon as the detected subluxation is properly adjusted, and the normal flow of innate mental impulses becomes re-established, the disease, whatever may be its nature, name or location, disappears.

Such, briefly, are the principles upon which this science, art, and philosophy of Chiropractic are founded. Together with their logical deductions they have added largely to the sum of accurate medical knowledge which exists at the present time.

When one thoroughly understands the philosophy of Chiropractic he is no longer obliged to ask, in vain, why people are well, ill, lean, fat, physically active or lazy, mentally bright or dull, nervous, erratic, hysterical, or crazy; why the exposure of a number of persons to the same health-disturbing influences, often results in each becoming ill with an entirely different form of disease; why, when a so-called contagious epidemic is raging, the many contract it while the few escape; why one man can eat corned beef and cabbage three times a day as long as he pleases, with impunity, while another suffers the tortures and pangs which only dyspeptics know. If he departs but a half a breath from the simple diet of crackers and milk or its digestible equivalent, or why a given form of disease is experienced in the organs or members of one side of the body instead of the other. All of these questions and many others are satisfactorily answered by the physiological facts brought to light by Chiropractic research and investigation.

The two fundamental facts of Chiropractic, 1st, that the physical cause of disease is, with very few exceptions, due to some form of vertebral subluxation and 2nd, that this cause can be removed by one or more adjustments made by the trained and educated hands alone, each adjustment requiring less than half a minute for its execution, are, in my opinion, the greatest discoveries of this or any previous age.

But the principles brought to our notice, important as they are, by no means represent all that Chiropractic has accomplished. By the aid of the light these principles have shed upon the forces which are active in the living body, it has made and will continue to make, important discoveries in departments of medical science other than those which pertain to therapeutics.

Among the most noteworthy of these discoveries so far made, are that of a "Serious Circulation"—a circulation which is carried on throughout every part of the body, independently of that of the blood—and a system of "Nerve Tracing" on the living subject, by means of which the pinched nerve can be accurately traced from its location in the diseased part or organ to its exit from the spinal column, or vice-versa, thus unmistakably determining the exact location of the vertebra that has suffered a practical turn of mind, may be mentally asking for something besides mere statements and philosophies—may be more interested in learning what Chiropractic has actually done to relieve sickness and suffering which are, everywhere, so prevalent. The most satisfactory reply to such an inquiry is found in statistics giving the results of Chiropractic adjustments for all forms of disease. As you have, undoubtedly, already interested, Chiropractic adjustments are as relevant and effective in acute as in chronic diseases. In fact, in the former conditions they are more so for the reason that the subluxations have not existed so long, are less fixed in their abnormal position and consequently are more readily corrected.

The first Chiropractic adjustment was given in 1895, and although as yet, there are no public hospitals where Chiropractic methods are used, there are hundreds of Chiropractors who have been exclusively employed in removing the physical cause of "laying disease by their unique, scientific and effective manner of "laying on of hands."

The clinical records from this source show that there is hardly a recognized form of disease which has not been completely and permanently made well by Chiropractic adjustments.

MANY ATTRACTIONS FOR THEATRE-GOERS

Superior Productions Will be Presented at Myers Theatre During the Coming Months.

Seldom has Janesville been favored with a theatrical season in which there has been offered more high class attractions than the present one. The season here was most auspiciously opened with "The Servant in the House," one of the strong dramas of the decade which has been produced in the show houses of the larger cities for unprecedented runs, and which is given for the first time this year in the smaller towns. "The Traveling Salesman" proved a most successful comedy, and the two musical comedies which have been seen here so far, "Madame Sherry" and "The Heart Breakers," were gems of their kind.

But there are better attractions coming, or at least they are equal to the best, judging from their metropolitan records. Next week Mr. George Sidney will appear here in one of the latest musical comedies, "Busy Izzie," which is said to contain a wealth of fun as well as pleasing music and an attractive chorus. Miss Carrie Webber is taking the leading feminine role in the production.

The following week another widely heralded musical production will be seen here, "The Girl I Love," which enjoyed an unprecedented run at the La Salle Theatre, Chicago, the latter part of the 1910-1911 season. As this is one of the best attractions it bears the stamp of approval of the theatrical critics.

Among the dramas that will be seen here are "The Ramblers," one of Charles Klein's masterpieces, "Checkers," and Mr. Walton Pyre in the latest comedy, "How Schneider Fixed It." Sousa and his band will also be seen here in the near future. There are only a few of the excellent attractions which are coming here soon. Others will be mentioned later in the season.

The Rooney Boys.
Among the coming attractions which are coming to Janesville, the Rooney Boys' Concert company is deserving of special mention. This company will appear at the Myers theatre, Oct.

17, under the auspices of the Janesville Boy Scouts, and will receive a large patronage, according to the reports of the seat sale made by the Scouts. The Rooney Boys' company is undoubtedly the best trained band of youthful musicians in the country and their entertainments meet with the highest commendation everywhere.

BUSY IZZIE.
George Sidney in "Busy Izzie" the big musical comedy of substance and originality will be the offering at the Myers Theatre on Thursday night, Oct. 12, and judging from the inspiring reports that have preceded it, it is altogether probable that it will establish a record whereby others in the future will be judged by, so far as concerns novelty and attractiveness. The main object to be obtained in the presentation of an entertainment of this kind is the greater number of effective features of a novel kind to be so crowded into entertaining space, as will share equal interest with a large array of pretty and talented girls, and a really funny comedian, who can be depended upon to relieve the strain of the ensemble in chorus work. Then, too, it becomes a matter of positive necessity to provide scenic equipment and costume accessories on a scale of superlative elegance in order to keep pace with such offerings as "Busy Izzie" is proclaimed. However, this attraction has one advantage that it would seem hard to overcome. It tells within an inch of its interesting young life, and which depicts itself merrily. It is a present of color, motion and song. It has more of the ingredients of high-class musical comedy than any of its predecessors at the La Salle.

Ashton Stevens, Chicago Examiner: "I'd know that chorus on State Street—if it wore the same clothes, for numerous are its changes, and pretty as well as spectacular. Oh, it is a lavish chorus. But it is worth the investment. It wears well. Everything it wears, it wears well." Sheppard Butler, Chicago Record.

obtains the sum needed to straighten out the financial tangle, one of his partners, terror-stricken at the prospect of a full sentence, turns over to the prosecuting attorney certain documents that are sufficient evidence to send to prison the young man's angry father, who is innocent of wrongdoing.

SOUSA AND HIS BAND.
John Philip Sousa has traveled more and given more concerts than any other musician. In his tours during the past 20 years he has covered about 600,000 miles and he has given between 8000 and 9000 concerts. He can claim with this record that he has given more concerts than any other man in the history of music. After appearing everywhere in the United States, Canada and Europe, Sousa and his band have been blazing a trail through South Africa, Australia, and New Zealand. It is something to boast of that, as members of an unshakable organization, the men in Sousa's band have received and are still receiving higher pay than any other players in the world. Sousa is especially proud of the fact that he has kept his band up to a high standard and that he has refused to cut down the number of players on the band. "The Girl I Love" is to be earnestly recommended. It boasts an excellent cast of principals, a chorus that is sprightly, amazingly good to look upon, and gowned in the pink of perfection, settings of notably tasteful simplicity, and a wealth of pretty dances and evolutions.

"The Girl I Love" will be seen at Myers Theatre Wednesday, Oct. 18.

THE GAMBLERS.
"The Gamblers" will be the attraction at Myers Theatre Tuesday night, Oct. 21. This splendidly constructed and absorbingly interesting new play by Charles Klein established the record for long runs among the plays of "The Girl I Love" received the unqualified endorsement of every dramatic critic in Chicago when it was produced at the La Salle Opera House of that city, February 4, 1911. The following verbatim quotations will bear out this statement:

Amey Leslie, Chicago Daily News: "The costumes are exquisite—fashionable, picturesque and dazzling, without a garish note or jar in the colorful and harmonious ensembles for the eye. Such an attractive production has not been given to Chicago in anything but a Ziegfeld show for years. The dances, groupings, rhythmic movements, tableaux and marches are unique and pretty, one after another, as well as the music, which urges them spiritedly into the maze."

Eric De Lamar, the Chicago Inter Ocean: "The Girl I Love" is musical comedy of the lighter, sprightly, inconsequential type. It is trim, fast in spots and stuffed with strange irrelevances like the Christmas turkey."

O. L. Hall, the Chicago Evening Journal: "Manager Harry Askin has given 'The Girl I Love' every advantage that resides in pictorial embellishment. There are two substantial and pretty sets, one an exterior showing a Catskill landscape, and the other showing the interior of a mountain bungalow. The costumes, and there are many kinds of them, are further convincing evidence that money has been poured without stint into the show."

Forcy Hammond, Chicago Tribune: "The attractive fashion of its presentation has not often been equalled in Chicago since the period of the Hamlyn extravaganza. 'Habs in Toyland' and 'The Wizard of Oz.' Adding the performance are many interesting young people, including an agile and personable chorus which is dressed

It costs over $2,000 a week in salaries alone to operate Sousa's band and some of the musicians receive $150 a week. "CHECKERS."
Opie Reed, the great humorous and heart-interest writer, says "Checkers" and wrote, "I think 'Checkers' is one of the cleverest, strongest, and prettiest representations of everyday life that I have ever seen on the stage." "Checkers" will be seen at Myers Theatre Monday, October 16.

Real Estate Show in Gotham.
New York, Oct. 7.—Including as it does the varied list of exhibits which made up the two previous shows of the kind given here, together with a new section devoted to apartment houses and building materials, the third Real Estate and Ideal Homes Show, which opened in Madison Square Garden this afternoon, is the largest and most comprehensive exposition of its kind ever held in America. The display embraces every type of building from the bungalow to the skyscraper apartment house, illustrated in models, photographs and drawings, as well as samples of every building material which enters into their construction. Equipment, decorations and furnishings are shown also.

INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, SOURNESS, GAS AND STOMACH-HEADACHE GO

A little Diapiesin makes your out-of-order Stomach feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch Gas and Eructate, sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of Dizziness, Heartburn, Fullness, Nausea, Bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is Indigestion.

A full case of Pope's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. Diapiesin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Biliousness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapiesin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranks about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for Indigestion or Gastritis or any other Stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of Stomach Trouble and Indigestion.

The Great Acorn Range

America's Very Best

For FINE BAKING
For FUEL-SAVING
For DURABILITY

When an Acorn Range moves into your kitchen, the range question is settled right. There will be no more worry about baking, and no more worry about stove repairs.

The Acorn is the range that is satisfactory the first day you get it, and every day you use it.

It pays for itself in the fuel it saves—it gives you EXCELLENT baking in place of ordinary cooking—it saves you time and trouble and money.

The body is made of American Ingot Iron, the new rust resisting metal which will outlast steel or charcoal iron many years.

The water-front heats very quickly, so that you have an abundance of hot water.

The oven is large, and square, and heats evenly on all sides. The nickel is smooth and easily kept clean.

You run no risk when you buy an Acorn. It is the very best range made, and guaranteed.

It has the celebrated Acorn Hot Blast Fire-box, which burns the gases that escape unburned from other ranges, thus giving a fourth to a half more heat from the same coal.

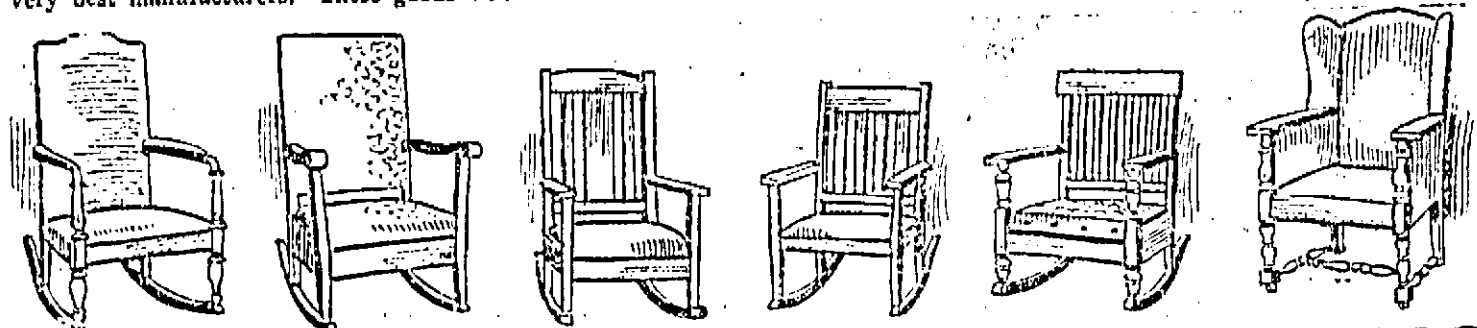

Come in and examine the range and let us make you a proposition to take in your old stove as part payment on an up-to-date, fuel-saving, labor saving, fine-baking Acorn.
